

The CBA attempt to impose the federal "established business relationship" exemption on Indiana consumers is not what I want. The original intent of the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law was to protect my right to privacy in my home. I don't want to have to remove my land line because of special interest need to invade my privacy.